Major Setback for Third Runway Project

The State Pollution Control Hearings Board (PCHB) has dealt a potentially fatal blow to the third runway at Sea-Tac International Airport by putting a hold on the State Department of Ecology's recently issued 401 Clean Water Certificate. After 15 years of work, $250 million of public money spent, importation of 3 million cubic yards of fill material and three unsuccessful attempts to obtain needed permits - the Port still cannot proceed with the third runway.

In issuing the stay, the PCHB made it clear that the Airport Communities Coalition case had a "likelihood of success" in three key areas: wetland mitigation, contaminated fill and stream flow augmentation. These areas represent the core of the Port's permit application. The full hearing on the ACC appeal will be heard in late March.

The Board found that the Port's plan to mitigate lost wetlands does not meet State standards. In particular, building new wetlands in Auburn does not alleviate damage to Miller and Des Moines Creeks. The second issue cited by the Board was that the third runway fill would endanger Miller and Des Moines Creeks because there may not be enough flow in the summer months to maintain these streams. The third issue cited by the Board was a lack of assurance that contaminated soil would not be utilized for the 23 million cubic yards of fill needed for the third runway.

Bob Sheckler, Chair of the ACC, in response to the ruling stated "We have been saying for a long time that the Port of Seattle has been relying on political muscle and public relations to compensate for bad science in their 10-year quest to build the third runway. The decision by the PCHB to stay the permit issued by the DOE validates that position."

So, when you are getting ready to go out for a walk or jog, remember to grab that leash (and your pooper-scooper bags) and your canine best friend! You and your dog will be glad you did!

SURFACE WATER NEWS

16th Ave. Slide Repair & Culvert Replacement Project Completed

The Slide Repair and Culvert Replacement project that started last July was completed on time and within budget. The project, located on 16th Avenue between Kent-Des Moines Road and 240th Street, involved replacing a failing concrete road culvert that conveys Massey Creek under the 20-foot high road embankment (that was impacted by a landslide during a winter storm in 1999) with a new and larger galvanized steel arch culvert.

The project also involved excavating and rebuilding the embankment and installing retaining walls at both ends of the new culvert. Other items included regrading and placement of stream gravels, and stream habitat features such as tree root wads and large boulders. The road that was closed during the construction period was reopened November 9.

Thanks to Northwest Cascade Construction of Puyallup for successfully completing this very complicated project and thanks to our citizens for their patience and understanding during this lengthy road closure.

25-Year Storm Drenches Area

On November 14, a 25-year rainstorm drenched the Des Moines area with over 3 inches of rain in a 24-hour period. The resulting flooding and drainage problems kept City staff busy.

At Des Moines Beach Park, the Senior Center not only endured flooding inside but it sustained structural damage, and is now closed until further notice. The other buildings, parking lot and playfield at Des Moines Beach Park were heavily flooded as well.

Des Moines Creek backed up 8 to 10 feet above the culvert behind the road embankment of Marine View Drive. Logs and other debris were trapped at the culvert inlet and threatened to block the creek.

During the peak of the storm, flows from the Port's Industrial Wastewater System (which treats runoff from the airport) that normally discharge into the Midway Sewer Treatment Plant sewer outfall were forced to discharge directly into Des Moines Creek to avoid overflowing of the Treatment Plant.

Massey Creek flooded over Kent-Des Moines Road at the Marine View Drive intersection. City crews set up detours that routed traffic around the flooded portion of the road. Storm flow data recorded during the storm will be used to calibrate the City Park Detention Facility so that it can reduce flooding downstream.

Other areas that experienced significant flooding were in the Redondo Riviera neighborhood, on S. 272nd Street west of 14th Avenue S., and at Kent-Des Moines Road and 10th Avenue S. City staff members are looking at possible solutions to these and other flood-prone areas. If you have flooding problems that you would like the City to investigate, please call Wayne Matthews at (206) 870-6567.

Des Moines and Salmon

Did you know that there are salmon in several of our streams? Did you also know that the "nearshore" area, the beach areas between the bluffs and the subtidal flats, are valuable habitat for salmon? Salmon use these nearshore areas for rearing, migration, and transitioning from fresh water to salt water. Coho salmon can be found in Des Moines Creek, Massey Creek and McSorley Creek. Chinook salmon and bull trout, currently protected under the federal Endangered Species Act, have critical habitat in these nearshore areas.

Des Moines has been working with neighboring cities, state and federal agencies, businesses, and environmental groups to develop a plan for improving habitat in the Green River/Central Puget Sound Watershed. In February 2002, a draft plan will be ready for public review and comment.

To learn more or request a copy of the draft plan, contact Dennis Clark, Watershed Public Outreach, (206) 296-1909, or e-mail to: dennis.clark@metrokc.gov. Citizens may also contact the City of Des Moines, Loren Reinhold, (206) 870-6524, to review or request a copy of the plan.

Water from Massey Creek flooded over Kent-Des Moines Road at Marine View Drive during the storm Nov. 14.

Flood waters from Des Moines Creek caused significant damage to the Des Moines Senior Center on Nov. 14, causing the main dining hall and classroom to be closed indefinitely.

The Public Works

Department also plows or sands the Des Moines Food Bank parking lot, the driveway for Midway Sewer and occasionally sands Highline College parking facility. All of these occur after the high priority streets are in good shape.

The department also provides sandbags to the City's citizens at $1 per bag for traction or extra vehicle weight.

Equipment the City has available for snow maintenance includes:

- Two plow trucks with sand spreaders.
- One dump truck with a sand spreader (without a plow).
- A road grader that can be equipped with a rubber-edged blade.
- Two backhoes and one front-end loader for yard and City parking lot snow removal.

Citizens with questions may contact Frank Olson, Public Works Superintendent at (206) 870-6559 or Linda Wright, Secretary, at (206) 870-6525 or visit the City's website at www.ci.des-moines.wa.us.

Redondo Boat Ramp improvements planned

The City was recently awarded a $87,000 grant from the Washington Inter-agency Committee for Outdoor Recreation to design safety and efficiency improvements for the Redondo boat ramp. Des Moines "inherited" the ramp from King County after Redondo was annexed into Des Moines in 1997. The ramp is popular among trailer boaters throughout South King County.

The goal is to improve the safety and efficiency of the existing boat ramp. Existing streets and nearby homes limit the number of boat launches that can be accommodated there. So, while launch activity will not increase, the facility will be safer to use and a better neighbor to the surrounding community. Ideas for improvements include: 1) adding additional boarding floats; 2) adding a floating breakwater; and 3) redesign of the parking lot layout.

Land Use Information Available Online

From your home computer you can check the zoning of your property and learn about long-range land use conditions throughout the city. The Des Moines Zoning Map is now available online, as is the Comprehensive Plan for Des Moines. Home Occupation – $30
Rental of Real Property – $150
