Tony Piasecki is new Assistant City Manager

ony Piasecki joined the staff at City Hall in August as the new Assistant City Manager.
Piasecki takes the position vacated by Bob Olander when he was appointed
City Manager last February.

Piasecki, 36, comes to Des Moines from Phoenix, Arizona, where he was the customer service administrator with the city water department for several years. Previously, he was an assistant in the city manager's office in Phoenix. He holds a masters degree in public affairs from the University of Texas.

Piasecki said he applied for the Des

Tony Piasecki

Moines position because he liked the size of the city, and he and his wife are "outdoors people" and they were attracted to this part of the country. He said his career goal is to become a city manager and being an assistant manager in Des Moines is a logical step in that direction.

His first impression of Des Moines was that it feels like a small town with a strong sense of community. At city hall, he immediately sensed a team-oriented approach among the staff. "They all seem to have a lot of energy, enthusiasm and commitment to serve the public," he said.

Piasecki said his goal in Des Moines is to help improve the quality of life. "I want to be able to say I've made a difference in the lives of the people who live here. I'm very serious about that."

Young people have been crowding to the skateboard park since it opened Sept. 5

Skateboard park is a hit with youth es Moines' new skateboard park at Des Moines Field House Park has been a popular spot since it opened in September. Crowds of young people have been there regularly testing out the ramps, platforms and other obstacles with their skateboards and in-line skates.

Opening day Sept. 5 attracted about 125 skateboarders and in-line skaters to the park. The dedication ceremony held that evening was attended by about 300 people. Following a few short speeches, Des Moines City Councilmembers tried their luck negotiating the obstacles on skateboards and in-line skates.

The skateboard park came about after a group of youths complained to the City Council that there were no places in the City to legally ride their skateboards. A committee of staff members and youths was formed to examine possible solutions, including building a skateboard park.

Jess Holbrook, 16, was one of the youths who first approached the Council, helped gather 4,000 signatures on a petition for the park, and once the concept of a skateboard park was approved by the Council, helped design it

Jess said the park turned out just as they had planned. "It's really good. All of us locals are down there just about every day. We're really happy to have a park to skate in instead of the street."

AIRPORT COMMUNITIES COALITION

3rd runway fight enters legal arena

By Ken Reid

Executive Director,
Airport Communities Coalition
(Cities of Des Moines, Normandy Park,
Burien, Tukwila, Federal Way and Highline
School District)

On August 2, the day after the Seattle Port Commission adopted its airport master plan and authorized construction of the third runway, the Airport Communities Coalition (ACC), of which Des Moines is a charter member, filed the first of its legal challenges.

Filed in King County Superior Court and naming the Puget Sound Regional Council (PSRC) and the Port of Seattle (Port) as defendants, this first challenge contains 17 claims that the PSRC's process to amend its Metropolitan Transportation Plan (MTP) was fatally flawed in three general categories. (In a nearly identical filing, the ACC on September 9 lodged an appeal before the state's Growth Management Hearings Board.)

First, the PSRC and the Port violated key provisions of the state's Growth Management Act (GMA) and the State Environmental Policy Act (SEPA), which require consistency with local comprehensive plans, credible financial plans and consideration for protecting the integrity of the region's surface transportation system.

Second, the required environmental studies conducted all ignored the devastating effects on the quality of life in the region and South King County by failing to adequately study and disclose the extent of impacts on air quality, water quality, noise levels, land uses and the roadway network.

And, finally, the PSRC violated state law and its own rules and procedures when it ignored the findings and recommendations of its own consultants, committees and panels, specifically regarding the supplemental airport search and noise reduction.

Then, on August 13 the ACC launched its second legal attack. An administrative appeal was filed challenging the legal adequacy of the Port's Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) under SEPA. The ACC challenged the Port's failure to accurately analyze the impacts of mining, transporting and placing the huge volumes of fill required to construct the runway, and also its failure to identify and evaluate feasible alternatives and reasonable mitigation measures. (The City of SeaTac has filed a separate but similar administrative appeal with the Port.)

Port SEPA rules require that challenges to Port decisions be brought before their newly created Office of the Hearing Examiner. The hearing examiner is appointed by, and the appeals process is conducted in accordance with rules established by, the Port. At this writing, two separate hearing examiners have been disqualified (at least in part due to challenges lodged by both the ACC and the City of SeaTac) because of conflict and appearance of fairness issues. As a result, the specific appeal schedule is undetermined. It should conclude within about six months, though, but can later be appealed to the courts.

The ACC has asked the court and the hearing examiner to overturn prior decisions and order the Port to cease all further actions pursuing the third runway and related expansion of Sea-Tac Airport. ACC has not yet requested any injunctions, stays or restraining orders, but is prepared to do so if it becomes necessary.

CRIME PREVENTION

Property Crime Statistics

here has been a dramatic decrease in burglaries reported during the period from June 1 to September 1: 44 burglaries compared to the 76 burglaries that were reported from March 1 to June 1 this year. Auto theft statistics have remained fairly constant, with the increase in crime during this reporting period being in reports of theft from auto.

The key to reducing any property crime statistic, especially theft from auto, is good common sense. Too many times victims of theft from auto create enticing opportunities for criminals. Wallets, purses, cell phones, money, keys, and garage door openers are left in plain view in the vehicle, both day and night. Women attending events at the high school, or taking a walk around the marina, stash their purses in their car trunks in plain sight of anyone watching. Pull-out stereos are left in vehicles routinely. Many insurance companies will not cover the theft of a pull-out stereo if it is left inside the vehicle.

Most theft from auto occurs during the night, but a good rule of thumb is to make sure nothing is left in your vehicle at any time.

JUNE 1 TO SEPTEMBER 1, 1996

- 71 reported incidents of malicious mischief. (Malicious mischief is any type of property damage).
- . 108 reported incidents of theft from auto
- · 39 reported auto thefts
- 44 reported incidents of burglary to either homes, apartments, storage sheds or businesses.

Postal Alert Program

The postal alert program is available for seniors (55 years and older), disabled, and extreme Med-alert persons. The U.S. Postal Service, City of Des Moines Police, City of SeaTac Police and the King County SeaTac Police Department are jointly offering this free service.

The forms for signing up on this program are available at the Des Moines Post Office, the Riverton Heights Post Office, the North SeaTac Community Center and the Des Moines Senior Center. Once a participant has filled out the form they can either leave it in their mail box for their mail carrier to pick up, or mail it to their local post office.

The program is very simple. requires that participants provide information for at least one emergency contact person. They must also notify both the emergency contact and the post office if they will not be home for several days in a row. If mail accumulates in the participant's mail box for a period of two to three days, and they have not notified the post office that they will be gone, the mail carrier will contact the police to check on their welfare. If the participant is injured, or seriously ill, the officer can take appropriate action. It is very important to make sure the emergency contact person knows the participant's whereabouts, as this is who the police will contact to get permission to enter the home.

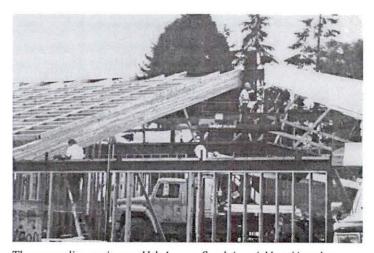

Many elderly and disabled people live alone, with no family or friends nearby to check on their welfare. If you know anyone that would benefit from this program, please make a point of letting them know about it. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Officer Shelley Miell at the Des Moines Police Dept. at 870-6536.

New police station on schedule for a spring 1997 opening

Des Moines' new police station is taking shape quickly, as passersby on 11th Avenue South have surely noticed. Lt. Kevin Tucker, police spokesman, said the overall project is about 25 percent complete, and on schedule for its spring 1997 completion.

"Most of the exterior work is being done in the fall; the roof should be water-tight by the end of September," Tucker said. He said that work on sidewalks and lighting will be conducted next, before work moves inside the structure during the winter months.

"We've been very pleased with the work of the contractor, and the architect is pleased too. It's going very well," he said. The contractor is Shinstine & Associates of Sumner. The project is being funded through a $3.35 million bond issue approved by Des Moines voters in April of 1995.

The new police station on 11th Avenue South is quickly taking shape.

CITY CURRENTS

Grant provides support, education of victims of domestic violence

Intil recently, a victim of domestic violence in the City of Des Moines didn't receive much in the way of help in breaking the cycle of domestic violence.

Thanks to funding from the federal Department of Justice, Des Moines is now able to offer victims of domestic violence help in the form of support, education, and resources.

The $177,537 grant will fund officer training specific to domestic violence response and equipment for processing a domestic violence crime scene. Further, one full-time court advocate will be hired to assist the victim through the court process, and a half-time victim's advocate will be hired to assist a victim in using resources in the community such as legal aid and professional counseling. The court and victim's advocates should be on board in the Police Department by mid-October. The victim in every domestic case reported to police will be contacted.

The grant will also fund a mobile outreach unit which will go out into the community to stores and shopping mall parking lots where victims can seek help in anonymity.

No longer will victims of domestic violence have to go through their battle against domestic abuse alone. With the help of law enforcement, the judicial system, and the Domestic Abuse Women's Network, victims will have the support, education, and resources available to them to break the cycle of domestic violence and rebuild a healthy life, free from abuse.

For information, contact the Police Department at 878-3301.

Port of Seattle cancels plan to develop technology campus in Des Moines

The Port of Seattle has dropped plans to develop the Des Moines Creek Technology Campus on 90 acres north of South 216th Street and 24th Avenue South, an area of the City impacted by noise from Sea-Tac Airport.

The campus was to be home to Cell Therapeutics, a drug-manufacturing firm that would have employed up to 200 people in a 175,000 square-foot facility. The Port had acquired the 90 acres over the years as it bought out noise-impacted property owners near the airport.

The Des Moines City Council in May approved a rezone and master plan for the technology campus. City staff has worked with the Port for more than two years on planning for the technology campus, much of that time negotiating project mitigations with the Port.

The Port stated in its decision to drop the project that project mitigations required by the City have made it economically unfeasible to proceed.

The City required the Port to conduct major street and storm water detention improvements, and give the City a 14-acre parcel in exchange for vacating some streets. The City planned to develop the 14 acres into a sports park.

Des Moines City officials were disappointed at the Port's decision not to develop the technology campus, since City staff had spent a great deal of time on the project, and it was a good use of land that has been made uninhabitable by aircraft noise.

We want to express our thanks and appreciation to those whose hard work went into the compilation of this directory, especially Nancy Uhrich, City of Des Moines Community Service Officer, and Rita Perkins, Des Moines Senior Center.

From "One Hundred Years of the Waterland Community" by Richard Kennedy and Grechen Schmidt any of Des Moines early settlers came from the Midwest to farm.

Because so much of the land was covered with timber, it was necessary to log off the land first and to build mills. The soil proved to be quite rocky, showing glacial deposits, and not the best land for farming.

Some of the early settlers had small truck gardens, fruit orchards, and berry farms which supplied their neighbors. Produce was difficult to sell because it had to be hauled to the larger cities. It either had to go by ship or wagon over very rough roads.

Harry Latimer tells of being wrapped in a blanket and tucked under the wagon seat at 2 a.m. to go to Seattle with his father so the produce would be at the market early in the morning. It is also said that some women who boarded the boats to carry fowl to market would sit and pluck the chickens as they traveled, letting feathers blow all the way to Coleman Dock in Seattle!

A variety of marketable products were raised in the area. Chickens were raised by the Crimp family on 18th Ave. S. just north of S. 216th St. Popular berries raised were strawberries, loganberries, and blackberries. Other crops were tomatoes, apples, pears, and prunes.

Max Elsner began a florist business in Zenith in 1907. He continued until 1945 when he sold to Thys Napjus. In 1981 the business was sold to Lyn Frazier who operates it under the name "Zenith Holland Nursery". This is the oldest continuing business in the area. Originally, the greenhouse was located where the Masonic Home now stands.

A number of Japanese families also farmed in the Des Moines area. The Nishimura, Watanabe, Nakatsu, and several other families either farmed or had greenhouses, or leased them in this area. Mr. Mikami had a vegetable stand at Midway until World War II. This stand was taken over by the McNabb family.

S. 216th Street improvement project

For those who haven't already noticed, construction on S. 216th St. from 24th Ave. S. to the I-5 overpass is continuing.

The utility work by US West, TCI and Puget Power is nearing completion. This will allow R. W. Scott, the City's contractor, to continue with the street improvements. The project is scheduled to be completed in November of this year. Construction will continue on the present schedule, generally Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

During the construction of the more visible street improvements (curbs, gutters, sidewalks and asphalt pavement), there will be some delays. One lane of traffic will be open at all times.

When completed, the most noticeable improvement will be continuous left turn lanes. These lanes will increase left turn safety and improve traffic flow. Non-motorized improvements include bike lanes and sidewalks on both sides of S. 216th St.

Also included in the project is the reconfiguration of the traffic signal at Pacific Highway South and undergrounding of some overhead utilities. The project is funded by the State's Transportation Improvement Board and the City of Des Moines.

31st Avenue S. sidewalk project

Construction on the 31st Avenue S. sidewalk project began in mid September. The project includes the installation of 600 feet of curbs, gutters and sidewalks along the east side of 31st Avenue S., south of S. 216th St. Ram, Inc., the City's contractor, expects to have the project completed by November. The first portion of the project, replacing a water line, was completed in August by the Highline Water District.

If you have any questions about these projects, please contact Jim Seitz with the City's Public Works Department at 870-6523.

City Offering Special Collection and Recycling Event on Saturday, Oct. 26

he City of Des Moines is sponsoring a special collection and recycling event to reduce the amount of hazardous material within the city. The event takes place Saturday, Oct. 26, 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. at the south end of the Des Moines Marina parking lot near Anthony's Home Port.

The event is funded primarily by the King County Local Hazardous Waste Management Program (LHWMP) and King County Solid Waste Division (KCSWD). Both the LHWMP and KCSWD programs are funded by garbage disposal fees paid by all King County residents. The City is using these funds to provide additional recycling and hazardous waste disposal opportunities to its residents. With these funds, the City is attempting to divert such hazardous materials such as used motor oil from being dumped down storm drains, old tires from being thrown into roadside ditches, used anti-freeze from being drained in alleyways, and lead acid batteries from being thrown into landfills. The event also collects hard to recycle materials such as bulky yard waste, clean scrap wood, ferrous and non-ferrous metals, reusable or recyclable household goods, and for a small fee, appliances.

For more details as to what can and cannot be brought to this special fall event, look for a flier in your mail soon or call City of Des Moines Community Development at 878-8626.

You can bring the following items:

- Uncontaminated Petroleum-based Products: Oil filters, motor oil, brake fluid, transmission fluid, steering fluid, crankcase oil, kerosene, diesel oil and home heating fuel. Do not mix solvents or other substances with petroleum products.
- Light Truck, Car, Motorcycle Tires: Tires must be taken off rims, bias ply, steel belted, and studded tires accepted. Limit 8 passenger tires per household (18 inches and below) free of charge. $8 for each large truck tire and $14 for each tractor tire. (CASH ONLY).
- Uncontaminated Antifreeze: Do not mix with oil, gasoline, solvents, or other substances. No limit.
- Lead Acid Batteries: Car, truck, marine, and motorcycle batteries accepted. No household batteries, please.
- · Clean Scrap Wood. No painted or stained wood, please.
- · Scrap Metal: Both ferrous and non-ferrous metals.
- Appliances: To properly dispose of hazardous chemicals, there will be a $15 charge for each refrigerator or freezer and $20 for household air conditioners. (CASH ONLY).
- · Bulky Yard Waste: Large branches are accepted. No brush, leaves or stumps.
- Textiles & Reusable or Recyclable Household Goods: Clothes that are too worn to be reused will be recycled into rags and useable/recyclable household items will be given to a non-profit organization and resold.

Senior Center offers flu shots on Oct. 9

Though the flu season is January through March, fall is the time for flu immunizations. Mid-October to mid-November is the best time to receive a vaccination.

The Des Moines Senior Center staff encourages all seniors to receive the immunization with their doctor's approval. The Center will be offering the immunization again this year on Wednesday, October 9, from 9:30 to 11:30 am. This year's cost will be $10 and no advanced sign-up is required.

The flu can have serious consequences in the elderly. According to the Centers for Disease Control, you should consider getting a shot if you are 65 years of age or older; you have a chronic condition such as diabetes, disease of the heart, lungs, or kidneys, severe anemia or conditions causing lowered resistance to infection; you are in close contact with high risk persons; or you have a strong desire to avoid influenza infection or reduce the severity of the disease.

Clients with Medicare Part B (other than Group Health) can be reimbursed a significant portion of the shot cost. Volunteers will be available to assist with completion of forms.

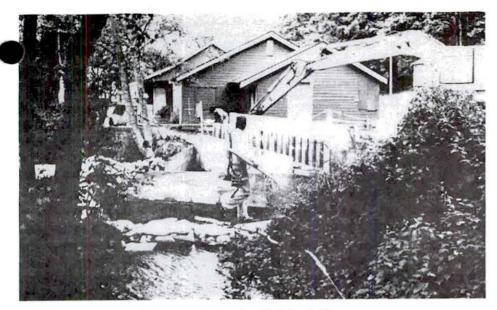

If you have any questions, call the Center at 878-1642 or stop by at 22030 Cliff Ave. S.

Hazardous Wastemobile

If you miss the Collection and Recycling Event on Oct. 26, you can still get rid of unwanted hazardous substances at King County's Household Hazardous Waste Wastemobile, which will be in South King County this fall at the following locations:

Federal Way (SeaTac Mall Sears) Oct. 31, Nov. 1, 2 & 7, 8, 9 Kent Park and Ride (Lincoln & James) Dec. 5, 6, 7 & 12, 13, 14

HOURS: Thurs. & Fri. noon -7 p.m. Saturday 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

A 20-foot wide concrete bridge is replacing the old timber bridge.

Beach Park bridge project being completed

Construction of the new bridge that crosses Des Moines Creek just upstream from the Des Moines Beach Park Senior Center started the day after Labor Day and will continue until October 17.

Reopening of the bridge is scheduled for the end of September with only minor work remaining for October. The existing timber bridge has been damaged by large storms over the last several years. Bridge railing and approaches were destroyed in a 1990 storm, and a storm last February caused one end of the bridge to settle over 3 inches and the abutment supporting the bridge deck to tilt inward. This further confined the stream making the bridge even more prone to future damage.

The timber bridge, which is 14 feet wide and has a span of 11 feet, is being replaced with a new 72,000 pound capacity concrete bridge that is 20 feet wide and will have a span of 20 feet. Although the driving width of the bridge will remain the same, the extra width will accommodate a 5-foot sidewalk on one side of the bridge to enhance pedestrian and vehicle safety. In addition, the height of the bridge will be increased by more than 1-1/2 feet, which will increase the stream flow capacity under the bridge by more than 350%. The new bridge will also include hand rails, curbs, and handicap access ramps on the bridge approaches.

In addition to the bridge, a spillway is being constructed downstream to convey some of the peak storm flows away from and around the Senior Center. Last year, a major storm severely damaged the foundation and utilities of the Dining Hall portion of the Center.

NW Waste Information Expo October 29 & 30

Attention Des Moines business owners/managers.

Attend the 8th Annual Northwest Waste Information Expo and learn how to reduce your waste, prevent pollution, and close the recycling loop by purchasing products made from recycled materials. The event will be held this October 29 & 30th at the Seattle Center Exhibition Hall and is sponsored by the Puget Sound Waste Information Network (WIN). The Expo showcases solutions with 45 technical seminars, along with numerous vendors that will guide you to products and services for your particular business needs.

For more information, call (206) 767-3271.

Construction of Des Moines Creek trail planned onstruction begins next summer on the Des Moines Creek Trail project, which will run from South 200th Street to where the creek empties into Puget Sound at Des Moines Beach Park.

The first phase of the trail starts at 200th Street near Tyee Valley Golf Course and travels approximately 1.4 miles to the Midway Sewer District Treatment Plant. That segment is projected to open in October 1997.

The second phase travels another 4,300 feet and completes the trail from the treatment plant to Puget Sound. It is scheduled for completion in fall 1999.

The trail will be constructed following installation of a Midway Sewer District sewer line installation along the same corridor.

The asphalt trail for pedestrians and bicyclists will be 12 feet in width and will be on a "bench" 5 to 15 feet above the stream bed.

Two resting spots with natural seating areas and signage will be sited along the Phase One portion of the trail, Although some trees and shrubs will need to be removed, most existing vegetation will be maintained. Cautionary signage will be placed at key points where the trail narrows and curves reduce visibility.

The trail project is being funded through money from the Washington State Department of Transportation (ISTEA) and the 1989 King County Open Space budget. The project also requires tunneling through the fill where Des Moines Memorial Drive crosses Des Moines Creek. Funding for this project will be through interlocal agreements involving a number of jurisdictions.
